Dear Admiral Taylor:

The next class of the Advanced Intelligence Course will begin on 11 September 1967. One of the important presentations to be made in the course is that entitled, "Central Intelligence Agency." The presentation is designed to serve as an introduction to the functions, organization and operation of the Agency, with particular emphasis on its relationships with the rest of the Intelligence Community in support of our national security.

On behalf of the Commandant, who is on extended TDY, I wish to extend to you a cordial invitation to address our Advanced Intelligence Course students on the subject of the Central Intelligence Agency. The presentation is scheduled for 18 September 1967, from 0930-1130. Normally the subject is covered by a 50 minute formal presentation followed by a question and answer period; however, please feel free to develop the subject as you desire.

The class will be composed of thirty senior military intelligence officers and civilians of GS/CS-14 grades and above. The students represent the three Military Departments, the Defense Intelligence Agency, the National Security Agency, the U.S. Marine Corps and the U.S. Coast Guard.

If there should be any questions or assistance required, please feel free to call me (OX 83803) or CDR Clyde W. Curley, USN (OX 82940) who has been designated project officer for this subject.

It is our sincere hope your schedule will permit acceptance of this invitation. It is only through participation by distinguished individuals such as yourself that we are able to place before our students knowledgeable and authoritative speakers.

Sincerely,

*Invitation accepted by DDCI per letter to from him
